

Pastor's Corner

When we look at the news on our televisions or read it our newspapers these days, we are well aware of the hardship and pain that exists in our world today.

There are painful scenes of war, feminine and terrorism, and presently of the war in Ukraine. Even at the time of Jesus there was inequality, injustice, and poverty. He would have seen it, experienced it, and been very familiar with it. But it is into that world that he came with the gift of peace. It is into our war-torn world today that Jesus comes with the same good news. It is in and through our world today that we experience and share in his resurrection. It is in and through our ordinary daily lives that Jesus comes risen from the tomb. In the world where there is the reality of suffering, violence and injustice, we are called to be people of hope. This is not ordinary human hope. This is the hope that comes to us through the Resurrection of Jesus. In the face of sadness, difficulty and pain, we are called to look to and rely on the resurrected Jesus and not just on our strength and resources.

After his Resurrection, Jesus' first words to the disciples were, "Peace be with you." While the war in Ukraine continues to kill military personnel and civilians and to displace millions, one thing that we are hoping and praying for is Peace. "Before the danger of self-destruction, may humanity understand that the moment has come to abolish war, to erase it from human history before it erases human history," Pope Francis said in another plea for peace more than one month after Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Pope Francis has consecrated Russia and Ukraine to the Immaculate Heart of Mary and asked the world to pray for peace in that region. And pray we did! Major Archbishop Sviatoslav Schevchuk of Kyiv-Halych strongly believes that 'Prayer has won Wars' and so he says, "We encouraged our Christian people to pray and participate in the sacraments, because we know that prayer has power. We know from history that prayer has defeated evil many times and has won wars."

Soon we will celebrate Easter, the feast of Hope. The resurrected Jesus comes to us as we are. But he also comes as he is –through the power of God he is resurrected– with the gift of new and everlasting life. Where there was despair, God brought us hope. Where there was darkness, God has brought light. Where there was hatred, God brought us peace. Where there was death, God brings us not just life, but new and everlasting life. These are the gifts that God offers each of us through the resurrection of Jesus. God is with the Peacemakers not with those who use violence. To our war-torn world may the Peace of the Risen Lord come and remain! Happy Easter. +Lumen, CSC

EDITORIAL

Halfway this month and we arrive at the greatest celebration of our faith, Easter, the Solemnity that celebrates Jesus' resurrection, signifying his victory over death and evil.

It is most unfortunate that, even at such a time as this, there is a war raging on somewhere on the planet. The heart wrenching images of the Russia-Ukraine face-off that we see on television make us cringe. We are appalled at the levels of insensitivity we human beings can descend to. And we begin to fear ourselves, at what ordinary mortals like us might be capable of! We begin to question the very notion of 'civilization' itself.

And when we are through with our bit of philosophizing about global moral decrepitude and the dreadful things it engenders, we return to our ordinary lives, and to issues we need to grapple with, right here, right now. Yes, we do have some advantages, sitting cosily as we are, thousands of kilometres away from where the shelling and shooting is!

From the media we gather that Pope Francis is quite disturbed and very concerned about the pain and sufferings this man-made catastrophe is causing to human beings. His pro-active engagement is not prompted by political considerations but compassion and Christian sensitivity.

The example of the Pontiff might be a huge invitation to Dioceses and Church bodies throughout the world to do two things: first, to examine and see if they have similar concern for the sufferings of people who live within their own jurisdictions. Secondly, to see if we are, given the meagre opportunities that exist for young people of our state to be schooled in matters of morals and faith, unwittingly fanning the flame of insensitivity among those entrusted to us.

Our fears may not be totally unfounded because alongside our alarming obsession to succeed and make a mark in life we also sense within us rising levels of insensitivity to the pain and problems of fellow beings.

The Easter festival we are about to celebrate gives us hope. From the darkness and decay of the tomb, the Lord arose in glory. He not only threw open wide the gates of heaven for us to enter after death, but also made it possible for us to live here on this earth as children of one Father. May our strife-torn world hear and take to heart His Easter greeting "Peace be with you." (Jn. 20:19). HAPPY EASTER!

Lead Farmers leaving a trail of Success

In the West Tripura District of Tripura, Caritas India formed two farmers clubs Wabusa and Borgachia villages. In record time Yarung farmer club of Borgachia village showed exemplary achievement after getting trained by Caritas India Partner, Jana Unnayan Samiti Tripura (JUST), ICAR and other agencies. Formed in November 2013, the farmer club carried on with the FARM program. The trainings on Integrated Pest Management, Integrated Nutrient Management, and sustainable agriculture practices helped the farmers to implement these new methods of farming and achieve a better yield.

Arun Debbarma, a lead farmer from Yarung Farmers Club, identified by JUST implemented the learnings from the training in his field which has given promising results. Now his annual income is between Rs.250,000 to 300,000 by selling his farm surplus produce like maize, medicinal herbs, beans, bitter gourd & paddy in the nearby market. Arun also has been spearheading the idea of spreading the spirit of hard work among his fellow farmers in his village and it is heartening to see that at least seven other members of Yarung Farmers club are already following him and started earning well.

The success of Yarung Farmers club motivated Wabusa Farmers Club to follow in their footsteps. Arun's inspiring story went beyond his village and Hiranmala Debbarma, (51), President of the Wabusa Farmers Club, was motivated to start cultivating crops by availing a loan of Rs.5,000 in 2015. Today, Hiranmala is a proud farmer earning approximately Rs.300,000 annually by selling crops like banana, bitter gourd, okra, ash gourd, chilies, etc., in the nearby market. Mr. Robert Lushai, Coordinator of FARM NE Program said that Mrs. Hiranmala Debbarma is a hard-working and determined lady who always aims higher to become a self-sustained and contented woman. She has the potential to improve the standard of her family. These Farmers Clubs not only create a ripple effect in the community but also lead the way towards food security and sovereignty.
